A training programme was organised on language and communication skills. The programme focused primarily on oral language proficiency skills in English. There were many activities conducted to enhance students' oral communication skills. The followings are a few examples.

1. Picture Description
2. Role Play
3. Group Discussion
4. JAM (Just-A-Minute)

The group was divided into smaller groups and the sessions were activity-based mode. As the sessions were conducted in activity modes, many students were interested to participate in the discussion. Students those who had low-level of confidence during their initial days could overcome their stage-fear.

Language and communication skills are very significant to the students, especially students undertaking professional courses like B.Tech and MBA. The skills are required for their academic and professional language requirements.
