

Name: Sunanya Das

Regd no: 200506232002

Bio/ Short introduction: I am a Ph.D. candidate at Centurion University of Technology and Management, embarking on a journey in the realm of plant biotechnology since 2020. Within this domain, my focus is on unraveling the mysteries surrounding bacterial wilt resistance in Solanum melongena, seeking to contribute to the advancement of agricultural science. Beyond the laboratory, I find solace in the world of literature, often immersing myself in captivating novels. Additionally, music serves as a constant companion, enriching my daily experiences.

Research interest: Plant biotechnology, Bioinformatics, Plant breeding.
